DIRECTOR'S NOTE

TRADITION! The theme of Fiddler on the Roof is one that has been repeated hundreds of thousands of times since the show's opening on Broadway 60 years ago. TRADITION!

Tevye, our beloved milkman from Anatevka so poetically puts it this way:

“Because of our traditions, we’ve kept our balance for many, many years.” and “Because of our traditions, everyone knows who he is and what God expects him to do.”

MICHAEL GREEN
DIRECTOR

Traditions, rooted in truth, are anchors for families and societies. They create balance and stability. Without them “our lives would be as shaky as a fiddler on the roof.” And yet, here we are. Watching our culture and country wandering aimlessly towards the edge of the roofline – only one more wrong move and we fall off – never to recover again.

As we perform this Tony Award-winning musical, let us look at what truly makes us who we were always meant to be as a nation, “The City on a Hill.” What traditions have we let go of only to embrace a “new way.” A more “progressive way.” A more nuanced way. All of these combined to divide us and separate us from what brings peace, safety, and prosperity.

We have replaced love of God, Family, and Nation. The replacement has been...well, I don't need to define that. The results are glaring. Watch and Listen as Tevye struggles to adapt. One thing is true – he never loses himself in the process. His love of God, Family, and Nation never waivers. He knows who he is and what makes life meaningful. Let Tevye's words and actions preach a message we all need to hear – just one more time.

What a joy and pleasure it is for Poiema Arts to bring this timeless classic to the stage once again. We trust that this presentation impacts you like it has impacted us. Thank you for your patronage and for supporting the arts in Raleigh. On behalf of the cast and crew, the directors, and the Board of Poiema Arts....

On with the show!
